

Do you want to help amplify the voice of people with rheumatic diseases in research? Would you like to help advance new approaches in rheumatology research? Do you enjoy being involved in the development of a new initiative with creativity and passion in a small team?

RheumaCura is dedicated to improving the life of people with rheumatic diseases by promoting patient-focused scientific research. It is a non-profit, tax-exempt Swiss foundation established in 2021 and run by patients and committed citizens.

For our highly motivated foundation team, we are looking for an immediate or by appointment

Communications specialist (20-30%)

who supports us professionally and energetically in all communication matters, with the possibility of expanding communication activities or supporting project work in the future.

We offer you an exciting and varied job:

- You maintain and develop the RheumaCura website
- You create small digital campaigns (website, newsletter and social media) and implement the measures independently
- You create texts for the communication media and edit contributions from your colleagues.

What you bring:

- Affinity, confident handling and solid experience with digital working tools (CMS website, social media, visual design, newsletters and mailings)
- Independent work and initiative
- Structured and organised way of working
- Flexibility and creativity to initiate projects independently
- Very good text fluency in German and good English skills
- Enjoy translating medical texts into generally understandable language.

Working at RheumaCura means:

- Participation in the creation of an innovative and forward-looking initiative in the health sector
- A lot of creative freedom and personal responsibility
- Cooperation in a small, motivated and collegial team
- A flexible working environment (home office with the possibility to have an office workspace in Bern or Zurich as needed).
- Fair remuneration in line with the usual framework and qualifications.

Interested? Send us your complete application documents as a PDF to info@rheumacura.ch. If you have any questions, please contact Judith Safford, President of the Foundation Board, Tel. 078 635 27 28.

In case of equal suitability, preference will be given to people who are affected by a rheumatic disease themselves or have a family history of the disease.

"A life free from the burdens of rheumatic disease is possible!"